France Seeks Lost Children in Reich

Nazis Tried to Destroy All Trace of Those Deported.

PARIS. Somewhere in Germany are more than 300,000 "lost" children. Many were born legitimately in France; others are the illegitimate "living reminders" of the French slave laborers deported to the Reich.

Few of these children lack anything but German, according to Madame de Lamoulaye, a Revere-bruck political defector who has been placed by the French government in charge of finding and repatriating these budding French men and women.

She reported: "All trace of the children kidnapped from France has been destroyed systematically by the Germans."

"The Germans needed new blood to build up and strengthen their 'master race' and sent these children to German homes and orphanages."

She is having great difficulty tracking them down, particularly as the children have forgotten all about France and usually talk nothing but German; many of them having been brought to hate the French.

According to Madame Lamoulaye, thousands of children, born of French parents in Germany, have been scattered by German dispersal regulations and are being handed over to the Allied authorities daily by Germans who are afraid to keep them.

But other thousands are being held by German families who are confident that they can never be caught. These little French boys and girls are being brought up to look upon Germany as their home country.

Special investigators are combing Germany looking for these children, said Madame Lamoulaye, and they are checking on numerous German women who married French deportees.

Frauleins Out at G.I.s Club in Reich
BERLIN—A couple of dozen "G.I. friends" were in tears, but it was there in black and white—"no fraternization."

This unexpected turn of events came at a special meeting of members of the Berlin Division, Non-Commissioned Officers club to consider a motion permitting frauleins guests two nights a week.

By 11 votes the motion failed to win the necessary two-thirds majority for adoption. The frauleins were out.

Backers of the motion, some what upset, took a check of the ballots. Seventy-four members, they found, voted for permitting frauleins as guests.

Fifty-four voted against it—including 20 WACS, who turned out en masse, they explained, "to protect our rights."

Army Officers Will Go To School for 20 Years
WASHINGTON—The war department announced a far-reaching reorganization of its education system that will keep an officer studying as he rises in rank from gold bars to stars. He'll be in the classroom much of his first 20 years of active duty with periods of practical field experience, a statement said.

The national war college will be the highest educational institution in the army, navy and the state department. National guard and reserve officers may attend three months' associate courses offered at all schools except at the top colleges. They may take regular courses if they have time.

Instruction in the highest category will be on a joint army, navy and air basis under direction of the joint chiefs of staff. A committee of army and navy officers is planning the curriculum of the armed forces college to which selected officers will be sent.

28-Mile Line of Locusts Advances Upon Sardinia
ROME—The Italian news agency Ansa reported in a dispatch from Sassari in Sardinia that a mass of locusts about 28 miles long and 2½ miles wide was advancing steadily on the area of Crotone, apparently downing the region's crops.

United States Relief and Rehabilitation administration officials here prepared to rush more than 400 vehicles to Sardinia to help fight the plague of insects and appealed to their offices in Britain, France and Germany to send emergency supplies of poison.

Radio-Telephones for St. Louis Cars Realty
NEW YORK—Radio-phone service has become a reality in St. Louis.

A motorist in that city may have a telephone installed in his car for $15 a month, plus a $25 installation charge.

The federal communications commission has issued the first such "operating license" in the country to the Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT
IS SEEKING DATA ON CHILDREN UNDER FIVE

In an effort to reach the parents of children under school age, letters are being mailed to all children who have been born in Coffee County since January, 1942, who do not have a record of having received two immunizing doses of diphtheria toxoid. It is realized that many families have moved from the address given on the birth certificate. Such families are requested to notify the Health Department of their present address.

Some children have been immunized by private physicians.

Parents are requested to write the Health Department, giving name of the child, birth date, age at time of immunization and name of doctor. This will enable us to more accurately estimate the number of children who are not protected and thus the actual amount of danger.

Please note that Health Department office hours have been changed in order to release the staff for more work on week days in the schools: Enterprise courthouse, Saturday 8:30-10; Elba courthouse Saturday, 11 to 12.

Clinics are being held at every school and will continue to be held in places listed in this paper last week.

LOAN APPROVED FOR WIREGRASS COOPERATIVES

Union Springs, Ala., Sept. 26.—A loan in the amount of $3,300, 000 has been approved for the Alabama Electric Cooperative by the Rural Electrification Administration, Congressman George Andrews, Third Alabama District, said today.

Congressman Andrews stated that Claude R. Wickard, Administrator of REA, advised him that the loan was to be used for generating and transmission facilities to provide power for a number of REA-financed cooperatives located in Southern Alabama and Northwest Florida.

Cooperatives in the Third Congressional District that will benefit from this loan are the Dixie Electric Cooperative, Union Springs; Pea River Electric Cooperative, Clayton; and Wiregrass Electric Cooperative at Hartford.

Mr. Wickard advised Congressman Andrews that due to strikes and other factors surrounding production, there is still a critical shortage of transformers, electric wiring, poles and other equipment needed to make electrical facilities available to new customers. There is also a serious shortage of skilled personnel needed to install electrical facilities.

Congressman Andrews said he is maintaining a close liaison with the REA and the Civilian Production Administration in an effort to alleviate to some extent the critical shortage of materials needed so that more people desiring electrical facilities can be accommodated.

They attended the Alabama-Furman football game in Birmingham Friday night which was one by the Crimson Tide, 26 to 7. Furman treated the crowd to a big surprise when a Furman player received the opening kickoff and behind fine interference, ran 95 yards for a touchdown. The kick was good and the Tide was trailing 7 to 0.

Prepackaging Ahead
Some of the changes sure to come are more prepackaging of fresh fruits and vegetables, more prepackaging of fresh meats and better and more effective packages for many foods that housewives have known well in packages that afford poorer protection. This prepackaging of foods will help self-service stores eliminate the sale of bulk foods and will protect the foods against loss of weight, bruising and spoilage. Products trimmed for packaging will reduce transportation costs. In stores that have been largely on a self-service basis, the test of prepackaging of fresh meats have been highly satisfactory.

SUMMERLIN NAMED
25TH DISTRICT SOLON BY STATE COMMITTEE

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 23.—Chairman Gesner T. McCortney announced tonight that the State Democratic Executive Committee had selected Vernon S. Summerlin, of Luverne, as the party nominee for state Senator from the 25th district.

Under the rotation system in effect in the 25th district, composed of Crenshaw, Coffee and Pike Counties, it was Crenshaw's turn to name the Senator, McCortney said.
